

Nine-year-old William, who needs an adoptive family, joined Music Therapy Institute's Tina Brescia and Lisa Sandagata of the Music Conservatory of Westchester for a music therapy session as part of the Freddie Mac Foundation Wednesday's Child program. William recently appeared on Wednesday's Child alongside WNBC chief meteorologist Janice Huff. Celebrating its 25th year, the Music Therapy Institute has been the largest provider of professional music therapy services in the greater Westchester region, working individually and in small groups with over 2,000 children and adults each year. The Institute provides services onsite at the Music Conservatory of Westchester as well as throughout the county through the Institute's Outreach program.

For more information about Wednesday's Child, visit FreddieMacFoundation.org. To learn how you can help area foster children in need of adoption, visit www.wnbc.com or <http://wednesdayschild.adopt.org> or call 212-676-WISH (9474). For more information on the Music Therapy Institute at the Conservatory, call (914) 761-3900 or email info@musiced.org.

Photo/Jon Chattman